Europe is facing urgent and significant challenges in maintaining sufficient standards of quality in healthcare. Among the EAOHP academy members a new consortium with researchers who conduct research in healthcare context has developed. This group of researchers examine new, creative and more preventive solutions that can be found within the network of the European Academy of Occupational Health Psychology, and more specifically reflect, discuss and define the concept of a more Healthy Healthcare.

During the EAOHP small group meeting, researchers share evidence-based practice and research on one or more links between healthcare services and the work environment, staff wellbeing and the quality of patient care.
